SUNWOOD MARINO

RELAXING BY THE FIRE

Create an atmospheric outdoor space during shivery days with our Marino patio fire on gas. Marino was originally designed for use in the hospitality industry. This offers some important benefits. Guests like to linger around longer on a heated and atmospheric terrace. Especially when they are seated right next to our patio fire. Due to the lack of a front- or backside you are not required to place the patio fire in front of a wall. Would you like to create ambiance in the middle of your restaurant's terrace? No problem. You can place the Marino anywhere you like.

Additionally, the fire starts at table height. This makes it possible to slide the patio fire right at the table. Providing warmth and ambiance on the places where it is needed the most: with your guests at the table. Marino can burn up to 35 hours on a full gas cylinder. This means that your guests can optimally enjoy the ambiance, while you change the gas cylinder only once a week.
